Part III DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant(s)

1. This action is responsive to the following communications: continuation and pre-amendment filed on November 3, 2003.
2. This application has been examined. Claims 18-45 are pending.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 18, 23, 25, 27, 31, are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 in Patent No. 6,684,343. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the omissions of, the service processor maintains security for the computer system to limit access to authorized users, in claim 1 are obvious expedients since elements of claims 18, 23, 25, 27, 31 the present application still perform the same functions, plurality of cell boards, with each cell board including at least one main processor and service processor that is connected to each of the cell boards;

wherein each partition includes at least one cell board, each partition is prevented from accessing memory of a different partition, service processor manages operations of the partitions.

as claim 1 of the patent. In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 189 (ccPA 1963).

5. Claims 32, 38, 40, 42, 45 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 17 in Patent No. 6,684,343. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the omissions of, the service processor maintains security for the computer system to limit access to authorized users, in claim 17 are obvious expedients since elements of claims 32, 38, 40, 42, 45 the present application still perform the same functions, plurality of cell boards, with each cell board including at least one main processor and providing service processor that is connected to each of the cell boards;

managing operations of the partitions via the service processor;

preventing each partition from accessing memory of a different partition, as claim 17 of the patent. In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 189 (ccPA 1963).

6. The remaining claims, not specifically mentioned, is rejected for the same reason as set for claims 18, 23, 25, 27, 31, 32, 38, 40, 42, 45.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 28-45 are allowable over the prior of records.
8. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claims 18, 23, 25, 27, 31, 32, 38, 40, 42, 45 are allowable over the prior art of record because the Examiner found neither prior art cited in its entirety, nor based on the prior art, found any motivation to combine any of the said prior arts which teach wherein each partition includes at least one cell board, each partition is prevented from accessing memory of a different partition, service processor manages operations of the partitions and
- the service processor can reset a partition (claims 18, 32);
 - the service processor monitors power requirements and determines whether a new component is added to the system based upon the power required for the new component (claims 23, 38);
 - the service processor monitors log events (claims 25, 40);
 - the service processor monitors status of the cells (claims 27, 42);
 - the service processor updates firmware resident in the cells (claims 31, 45)
9. The remaining claims, not specifically mentioned, is allowed for the same reason as set for claims 18, 23, 25, 27, 31, 32, 38, 40, 42, 45.

Conclusion

10. All claims are rejected.
